RAIL MILEAGE

The United States has about 29 per cent of the world's railway mileage on about 6 per cent of the earth's land surface.

MELON VARIETIES

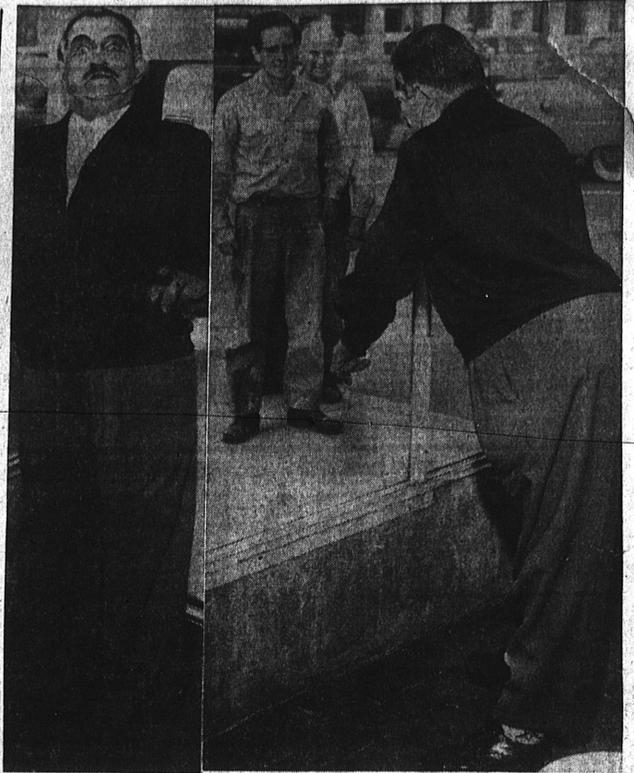

The meat of watermelons varies in sweetness, fiber and color, the latter often ranging from deep red to light pink and even to yellow.

El Camino President Invited To St. Louis for National JC Meet

President Forrest G. Murdock of El Camino College will participate on the program of the national convention of the American Association of Junior Colleges in St. Louis March 8 to 12, it was announced this week.

The El Camino administrator will serve in the capacity of recorder of a program conducted by the curriculum committee on cooperative engineering problems and issues. During the five-day session, work of five research and service committees in the field of junior college education will be reviewed. Headquarters for the conclave will be the Statler Hotel. Already enroute to the convention headquarters is a display depicting the growth and nature

THE MECHANICAL MAN . . . Tapping the window of the Torrance Plumbing Co. for a couple of hours this week was "The Mechanical Man," one of the wierdest "get-ups" seen here since the days of the factory frolics. The Mechanical Man will be back for a full-day demonstration in the near future, according to Parke Montague, company official.

Accident Rate Lower in 1953

The display charts the progress of El Camino College and its enrollment of 1100 when organized in 1947 to its present enrollment of 6400. Additions of new buildings are pictorialized.

On arrival in St. Louis, the graphical account of El Camino growth will be placed on display before the convention, which is expected to draw representatives from several hundred junior colleges throughout the nation.

Objective of the conclave is to give regional and state personnel increased understanding of problems confronting junior colleges, including problems of accreditation, public relations, curricula, technical engineering curricula, general education, general business and secretarial curricula, and semi-professional programs.

Among noted educators who will speak to the convention will be Dr. Harold P. Rodes, president of the Ohio Mechanics In-California drivers last year were on their best driving behavior since 1950, according to official statistics released this week by the California Highway Patrol. There were 3371 traffic fatalities during 1953 compared to 3662 in 1952. Of these, 2342 were suffered in unincorporated areas of the state while 1029 occurred within corporate cities. Total injuries were also below the 1952 figures with 106,427 persons injured in traffic during 1953 as compared to 110,874 in 1952, a reduction of 4447.

attitude and a former member of the staff at the University of California at Los Angeles, and Dr. Francis J. Brown, representing the American Council on Education in Washington, D. C.

The mileage death rate, based on the number of fatalities per each hundred-million miles of travel, dropped from 7.4 in 1952 to 6.6 in 1953, an all-time low for California, according to available records.
